International Procedures Training by Scott IPC—May 2nd

For flight departments looking for a local Bay Area International Procedures recurrent course, Scott IPC will be conducting their first International Procedures course in the Bay Area on May 2nd in Oakland. If there is continued interest in this local solution, Scott IPC will consider running quarterly recurrent training courses in our area. Right now, Scott IPC has tentatively agreed to come back on August 15th. Please get the word out and hopefully we can get enough pilots to participate and reduce everyone's travel cost and time away from home. Visit Scott IPC's website for more details and contact information <http://www.scottipc.com/>.

California Aircraft Expo May 16th-17th

A really nice gathering of GA aircraft manufacturers and dealers will take place at the San Carlos Airport (KSQL). The latest generation of GA aircraft will be on display at the Hiller Aviation Museum. For more details, please follow the California Air Expo link: <http://www.californiaaircraftexpo.com/>

Aircraft Disaster Response: Planning, Reacting and Recovering—May 30th

Our friends at Michael L. Dworkin and Associates along with Robson Forensic, together with AeroPodium and several distinguished aviation industry speakers are putting together a one-day workshop on accident investigations, SMS, family assistance, Emergency Response Plans and the numerous legal issues surrounding an aviation catastrophe.

Two speakers who will discuss both the aviation industry and human perspective of living through an aircraft accident will tie the day's presentations together.

The event is taking place May 30, 2014 at the Bar Association of San Francisco Conference Center, located in the former Federal Reserve building. The agenda and sign-up information is available here:<http://www.aeropodium.com/adr.html>

Be advised this is not a NCBAA event, for more information please contact Michael L. Dworkin and Associates at (415)421-2500 or via email at john@avialex.com

NCBAA News

I want to encourage everyone to please ensure your membership is current. Renewal is easy and online at our website <http://www.norcalbaa.com/>. We are an all-volunteer organization and we need your help. Join or renew your membership today, we have a big slate of events planned this year and I hope to see you there!

My thanks to all who joined me representing the NCBAA at the California Aviation Day held at the state capitol in Sacramento. We had a good time out there meeting other organizations, airport representatives and we heard from our elected state officials.

Event Calendar

May 2nd: International Procedures: Scott IPC
May 6th: NCBAA Safety Day
May 16th & 17th: California Air Expo
May 30th: Aircraft Disaster Response Planning
